The Covernor's statement follows: The Governor's statement follows:
"The summer training school camp at Princeton opens on Monday next. I consider the boys who enlist for training in the Princeton camp in precisely the same posttion, as respecting the cafeguards which should be thrown around them, as callsted to the camp and National soldiers in the regular army and National Guard under canvas.

"Therefore, the recent Federal legislation prohibiting the selling of liquor to soldiers in uniform will be held to apply in all respects to the training camp at Princeton and I call upon all to observe the law in spirit and letter.

"Of course, young men under twenty-one yours of age are protected in this respect by the law of New Jersey regardless of military consideration. But, apprehending that those over twenty-one years of age might be looked upon as not coming under this prohibition. I deem it necessary to issee this statement, in order that the pro-prietors of all licensed places may have full and fair notice that State authorities will rigorously enforce both the Federal and State laws with respect to men under can-

U-BOAT HUNTERS WASTE NO TIME

U. S. Destroyers in British Waters Eager to Be Ever in Search

By J. W. PEGLER TH THE AMERICAN DESTROYER FLOTILLA IN BRITISH WATERS, June=22

America's submarine hunters over here waste no time in the harbor at the end of their sea tour of duty

They dash into the sheltered harbor where a big parent ship, throbbing and rashing with the activity of hundreds of skilled repairmen, specially makes repairs to worn parts and replenishes stores, then silently, mysteriously the slim gray sprint-ers of the sea disappear again beyond the bluffs.

content themselves with occasional momentary flashes of action in which a periscope is sighted and a shot is "gotten in" before "stick" disappears.

The relations of officers and men are even better fran those in the democratic British navy. So far there have been in casualties among the Americans, and the few patients in the hospital are those who have been accidentally injured.

While an official photographer snapped the gun crew on one destroyer the men eagerly appealed to me to send over their names. So when the folks back home two weeks or so betice see a group of these bluejackets printed in their daily newspaper they will know that these are the boys pic-tured therein—all of whom incidentally wanted their friends at home to know they are well and enjoying themselves:
